“Metaverse real estate sales top $500 million in 2021, and are projected to double this in 2022”

An isometric illustration of a virtual landscape, possibly a metaverse or digital world. It features various floating landmasses with green terrain, small buildings, and structures. Several large, grey, 3D location pins are placed on the map, suggesting specific points of interest or ownership. The background is a dark, starry space. The entire scene is framed within a rounded rectangle with a white border.
